

Change Management

Change is ongoing and inevitable. Change managed well can transform a transition into a productive and positive experience.

Objectives

After successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand individual differences in responses to the stress of change
- Identify obstacles to successful organisational change
- Implement strategies for a smoother transition

Benefits

For the participant, a deeper understanding of factors involved in managing change.

For the organisation, an opportunity to implement changes in a purposeful and people-sensitive way.
