

Negotiation Skills

Increased competition in the market place has highlighted the need for more sophisticated strategies to deal with conflict and to capitalise on resources whilst maintaining sound relationships with the other party.

Objectives

After successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the critical components of the negotiating process
- Appreciate the way individual interactions can affect the outcome of a negotiation
- Use skills learned to negotiate more effectively

Benefits

For the participant, increased effectiveness and job satisfaction.

For the organisation, better staff and customer relations, and more satisfactory outcomes.